A blunder in the constitution of Wyoming may prevent the holding of an election in that State in 1892.

It is reported that ex-Gov. Wm. E. Cameron has accepted an invitation from Mayor Ellyson, chairman of the democratic State executive committee, to speak for the democratic candidates for Congress during the present campaign.

The Governor will soon issue writs for special elections in November to fill legislative vacancies, as follows: The Loudoun and Fauquier Senatorial district, vice Hon. Henry Heaton, deceased; the Wythe Senatorial district, vice the late Judge Esley; Brunswick county, vice Hon. W. F. The Mississippi Convention. In the Mississippi constitutional convention yesterday wif-beating was stricken out of the franchise section as one of the disqualifications.

An amendment to insert 'and who can read the English language' was rejected. Numerous other amendments were offered to the franchise section, but all material ones were rejected and the section adopted substantially as reported. The chairman announced that the franchise committee desired to make the educational test go into effect in 1892, instead of 1896, and requested that it be passed temporarily. This was accomplished and will make the report much more effective and acceptable. Apportionment was taken up in the afternoon and passed by sections. The number of representatives is fixed at 133 and senators at 45.

It is stated that by order of the Queen there will be no criminal libel prosecution of E. N. O'Brien, who published the story that Prince George engaged in a street fight at Montreal.

The six raftsmen who were recently imprisoned on a rock in the St. Lawrence rapids below Lake Deschambes by the breaking of a tow rope and the getting away of their raft were rescued to-day.

The conference report on the tariff will probably be ready to-morrow or Thursday. Whenever it is ready it will be given the right of way, and the contested election case if not settled by that time will be quietly dropped.

The republican caucus yesterday decided to continue the Langston-Venable election case in the House. The caucus is said to have decided in order to secure a quorum to attempt the arrest of democratic members who absent themselves.

Another trunk line is to be built from New York to Chicago, to be known as the American Midland. The road is to be built chiefly with English capital, but a number of influential Americans, including Russell Sage and Sidney Dillon, are said to be interested.

The President at Oresson, Pa., yesterday received a telegram from Senator Aldrich and Representative McKinley stating their belief that Congress will dispose of the tariff bill during the present week and adjourn the 1st of October, or soon after. These telegrams were in response to a request from the President for information on the subject.

The largest catch of trout ever seen in the Norfolk section was made yesterday at the Pleasure House Fishing Club. There were 13,000 in the catch, 250 of which would fill a horse cart. The oldest residents say they have never seen anything to equal it.

Great excitement was occasioned in White Plains, N. Y., last evening by the announcement that ex-Judge Archer, whose domestic troubles have been many of late, had horse-whipped his wife and threatened to shoot her. In a conversation he said that the cause of his domestic troubles was the infatuation of his wife for a music teacher, who until recently had been instructing his daughter.

TOBACCO MEN ASK PROTECTION.—A meeting of the Southern republicans of the House who are especially interested in the tobacco tax clauses of the tariff bill was held yesterday, and Messrs. McComas, Brown and Houck were appointed a committee to confer with the House conferees.

They called on the conferees, and after making known their views, added that there were 20 republicans who would not hesitate to vote against the tariff conference report unless the interests of the tobacco growing constituents were as carefully guarded as are those of the wool and iron men of the North. They were assured that their interests would be just as carefully guarded even without the use of threats.

The truth is that the Senate conferees have taken the ground that the eight million of revenue gathered from the present eight-cent rate on smoking and manufactured tobacco cannot be spared, and they are therefore, unwilling to accede to the four-cent tax proposed by the House. They are, however, willing to yield all the smaller taxes, such as those paid by the dealers in leaf tobacco and in manufactured tobacco and by peddlers of tobacco.

MONETARY AND COMMERCIAL. NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—The stock market opened this morning with marked activity, but the narrowness and strictly professional character of the market was brought more prominently into view by the animation displayed, as three fourths of the business done was in those stocks to which the bears have of late paid particular attention.

First prices as compared with the final figures of last evening were irregular but generally lower, but in the general list a firm tone was developed although the fluctuations were insignificant in almost every case. The general list scored slight advances over the opening prices, and at 11 o'clock the market was less active but firm at the improvement.

Corn is dull at 55 to 57. Rye 55 to 65. Oats 42 to 45. Butter 15 to 20. Eggs 21 to 22. Potatoes 50 to 65. Apples and other produce are active.

ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCHES.

Proceedings of Congress. WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 23. SENATE.

Mr. Hale introduced a joint resolution (which was referred to the committee on public buildings and grounds) for the erection in the District of Columbia of a memorial building which shall be a suitable monument to the memory of U. S. Grant, which is to contain a military and naval museum, &c., and in the inner court of which may be placed to rest the mortal remains of distinguished Americans. [The title endorsed on the joint resolution reads: "In the vault of which shall be placed the mortal remains of Ulysses S. Grant.]

The resolution offered yesterday by Mr. Plumb instructing the committee on education and labor to investigate charges made in a memorial of the Woman's Industrial League as to the employment of women and children in mills and factories throughout the country was taken up.

Mr. Hoar asked Mr. Blair whether Mrs. Charlotte Smith, President of the Woman's League, was in the employment of the committee on education and labor.

Mr. Blair replied that she was not. Mr. Cockrell read from the memorial in which Mrs. Charlotte Smith states that she has been appointed by the chairman of the committee on education and labor.

Mr. Cockrell quoted from Mrs. Smith's petition a statement to the effect that in some cases in Massachusetts the records of birth have been changed in the family bibles so as to make the children appear to be old enough to be employed in factories. The statement was treated by Mr. Hawley and Mr. Hoar as an invention or an exaggeration.

Mr. Cockrell wanted to know whether those Senators were casting reflection upon the source from which it emanated.

Mr. Hoar challenged some of the points mentioned by Mr. Cockrell.

Mr. Cockrell said that he had not said any thing which was not contained in an official document signed by the President and Secretary of the Woman's League.

The resolution was referred to the Committee on Education and Labor.

HOUSE. Mr. O'Ferrall, of Virginia, was the only democrat in the chamber this morning during the delivery of the prayer. The clerk immediately began to call the roll on the approval of Friday's journal.

The clerk having called the roll, announced the pairs and recapitulated the list of the voting, the Speaker hesitated before he announced the result—there being but two lacking of a quorum.

Mr. O'Ferrall demanded that the result should be announced.

In order to delay the announcement, republican after republican rose and requested to know how they were recorded.

Mr. Grosvener, of Ohio, inquired how the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. O'Ferrall) had voted.

Mr. O'Ferrall replied that he had never voted to perpetrate a larceny and he did not propose to do so in this case.

Mr. Allen—the gentleman doth protest too much. The gentlemen has evidently stated the whole of the other side.

Mr. G. D. Taylor—May I ask the gentleman a question?

Mr. O'Ferrall—That is a dilatory question. (Laughter.)

Mr. Taylor inquired whether the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. O'Ferrall) when he was seated by a democratic House, considered it a larceny.

Mr. O'Ferrall retorted that the keeping him out of his seat had been a larceny, and that a democratic Congress had vindicated him.

Mr. Taylor—The only evidence that you had a right to the seat was that you were seated by a majority vote.

Mr. O'Ferrall—I would be well to remember the course of the republicans in the last Congress when for days and weeks they refrained from voting in the contested election case of Sullivan against Falton.

Mr. Allen, of Michigan—Why didn't you count us?

The vote was then announced to be—yeas 155; nays 1—no quorum—and a call of the House was ordered.

Just as the Clerk began to call the roll Mr. Sweeney, of Iowa (one of the absentees) entered and was received by his colleagues with applause. Shortly afterwards Mr. Mudd, of Maryland, made his appearance and received a reception of mingled applause and hisses.

During the roll call the camera was again brought into requisition, and the photographer again reproduced the array of empty democratic seats.

One hundred and sixty-four members responded to the call, and without any announcement of the result further proceedings were dispensed with and the vote again recited on approving Friday's journal. While this roll call was in progress applause and hisses were given when Mr. Milliken entered the hall. For a time Mr. Cheadle, of Indiana, who is opposed to Langston's claims, joined the absentees and located himself on a lounge in the lobby, declining to enter the chamber. But the requests and applications of his party associates proved too strong, and upon this vote he recorded his name in the affirmative.

The vote resulted: Yeas 169, nays none—the Clerk noting a quorum.

Notwithstanding the protests of Mr. O'Ferrall the Speaker directed the reading of Saturday's journal.

Mr. O'Ferrall demanded a division on its approval, and while the republicans were being counted he retired to the cloak-room and the victorious shouts from the republicans and expressions of regret at his desertion. As soon as Mr. O'Ferrall was out of the hall Mr. Haugen asked unanimous consent to dispense with the division, and there de-ling no democrat present to object, it was so ordered amid laughter and applause.

Then Mr. O'Ferrall returned, but the journal had been approved. Monday's journal was approved without objection.

The question then recurred upon the first of the majority resolutions to unseat Venable. It was agreed to—yeas 151, nays 1, (Mr. Cheadle) the clerk noting a quorum.

Then came the question on the seating of Langston and it was carried on a division—Mr. O'Ferrall and Mr. Cheadle alone voting in the negative.

Mr. Hanger then escorted Langston to the bar of the House, while the republican side and the galleries broke into loud applause and cheers which were redoubled as the Speaker administered the oath. Then came a chorus from the republican side: "Call up another case;" and in response to the chorus, Mr. Powell, of Illinois, called up the South Carolina case of Miller against Elliott.

The House has agreed to a resolution declaring Miller the duly elected representative from the 7th district of South Carolina. There was no debate. Miller was not present.

The House then went in Committee of the Whole on the Senate amendments to the deficiency bill.

Railroad Accidents. NAMPA, Idaho, Sept. 23.—A wreck occurred on the Oregon short line about three miles west of Nampa last night. A freight train broke in two between Caldwell and Nampa and the freight train with the caboose ran down the grade at a rapid rate. The night east-bound passenger, running at a high rate of speed, ran into the freight, reducing the caboose into kindling wood and throwing the rest of the freight cars into the ditch. Patrick Boyle, of Boise River, a passenger, was instantly killed, Engineer Kalen was severely injured and the fireman badly scalded. Boyle's body was found in the wreck fearfully mangled.
